

TI'azt'en Perspectives on Tourism

Shane Hartman MA NRES (candidate)

Through our research we plan to learn about TI'azt'en perspectives and the ability of the community to develop tourism in their traditional territory. With the information gathered, we will develop a picture of the current state of affairs for TI'azt'en in regards to tourism development as well as provide feedback of these to community members.

Information Discovery Tour

- Completed summer of 2007

Examples of First Nations Tourism Sites visited:

Hubble Homestead

- Seasonal fish camp

Bednesti

- Art and craft gallery

K'san

- Heritage site
- Campground

Pitt Lake Wilderness Tours

- Rental cabins
- Walking/boat tours

Community Presentation Day

- Completed in February 2008

What we found:

- Benefits and impacts differ with each tourism site and must be considered in development
- Type, level and nature of control must be determined by the community to help ensure success
- Each successful tourism site built on its own strengths and assets

If any community member has any , questions, concerns or comments contact: Shane Hartman
 Ph. (250) 960-5166 or hartmanh@unbc.ca

Community Interviews

- Ongoing

We have interviewed over 20 TI'azt'en members and asked:

- What kinds of benefits are you looking for?
- What kind of tourism would you like to see?
- How do you think tourism should be managed?

Acknowledgements, Mussi Cho to: Pam Wright, Greg Halseth, Gail Fondahl, Jackie Basil, Amelia Stark, Bev Leon, Deanna Yim, Dianna Kutzner, Leona Shaw and Melanie Grubb.

Community Workshop

- June 2008

We'll Share:

- Preliminary findings from community interviews
- Highlights of the tourism market

We'd like to discuss:

- Identification of tourism assets
- Community interests/wants/concerns
- Competitor analysis

Complete Thesis & Share findings with TI'azt'en

- September 2008